

Reimagining Education for Multilingual Students

MASTER OF ARTS, ENDORSEMENTS, CERTIFICATES

CULTURALLY AND LINGUISTICALLY DIVERSE EDUCATION MASTER'S DEGREES, ENDORSEMENTS AND CERTIFICATES

For people passionate about elevating the status of bilingualism and inclusivity in classrooms and championing the strengths and assets of children who speak and are learning multiple languages, CU Denver's Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Education program is ideal.

TOP SCHOOL AND PROGRAM FOR TEACHERS OF ALL BACKGROUNDS

The School of Education & Human Development is consistently ranked as one of the top schools of education in the country. Our students gain in-depth knowledge and develop practices that honor and build on all learners' prior knowledge and experience. We invite you to join our collegial learning community of faculty and students who care deeply about social justice issues and who seek ways to advocate for change.

TRANSFORMATIONAL LEARNING EXPERIENCES FOR ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY TEACHERS

Our courses develop the knowledge, leadership skills and classroom practices necessary to support learners from diverse cultural backgrounds. They also prepare you to develop critical understandings of how school systems can leverage the strengths of multilingual learners to further equity goals.

ADVANCING YOUR CAREER AND TEACHING PRACTICE THROUGH MULTIPLE PATHWAYS

This program has multiple pathways that can be stacked and lead to degrees and endorsements. Many teachers start their MA by taking advantage of district-offered certificates and professional development to credit options. All options prepare you to be a teacher leader and advocate for bi/multilingual learners. Classes are designed specifically for working professionals with evening, online and hybrid options. All courses align with Colorado Department of Education and TESOL standards.
