LPS Foundation Spotlight March 2024

Littleton Public Schools Foundation Awarded More Than $340,000 in Grants

We are pleased to announce that the Littleton Public Schools Foundation recently received five grants that will benefit community members, students, and staff.

The City of Littleton provided three grants totaling $223,300 to the LPS Foundation from Stadium District Funding related to the purchase of the Denver Broncos Football Club. The money will fund summer school and camps at the EPIC campus, a chess club at Littleton High School, and activities at the East Community Center, including afterschool programs, outdoor learning, child care, a community garden, mental health services, and more.

In addition, preschool students at The Village Early Childhood Center are the beneficiaries of a $10,000 grant from the National Wildlife Federation's ECHO initiative. The grant is for landscape design, which will bring a sensory garden and outdoor classroom to their school. The initiative also provides professional development for ECE staff on activating their outdoor spaces and engaging children in nature learning.

The final $110,000 grant from an anonymous donor went toward the purchase of a second Anatomage virtual dissection table for the EPIC campus. The state-of-the-art technology provides our Health Sciences Pathway students with a broader understanding of their subject matter and gives them a competitive edge as they seek advanced education.

We are extremely fortunate to have community partners who value and prioritize student learning and growth. We'll share stories and pictures about how the grants serve our youth in future communications.

LPS Foundation Grant Brings Unique Storytelling Workshop to Littleton High School

We previously told you about an educator grant that brought highly sought-after graphic novels to Goddard Middle School. Now, we're highlighting a grant that gave art students at Littleton High School a chance to create their own graphic novels with help from an expert.

LHS Visual Art Teacher Melanie Rapp invited University of Colorado Denver Film Studies Professor Dr. Andrew Scahill to lead a workshop that explored the world of graphic novels, which are a unique form of storytelling using images and words. The students wrote and illustrated their own graphic novels with the knowledge they gained. This experience gave young artists valuable insight from an industry expert and showed them different paths they might take in the creative world. Ms. Rapp said that the students loved the experience and have requested more visiting artists and photographers.

Your gifts to the LPS Foundation fund our key initiatives, including the grants to educators program. Visit the What We Do Page on our website for more information.

Novedades de la Fundación LPS marzo de 2024

La Fundación de las Escuelas Públicas de Littleton recibió más de $340,000 en becas

Nos complace anunciar que la Fundación de las Escuelas Públicas de Littleton recientemente recibió cinco becas que beneficiarán a miembros de la comunidad, estudiantes y personal.

La ciudad de Littleton otorgó tres becas con un total de $223,300 a la Fundación de LPS de los fondos del distrito del estadio relacionados con la compra del Denver Broncos Football Club. El dinero financiará la escuela de verano y campamentos en el campus EPIC, un club de ajedrez en la Escuela Preparatoria Littleton, y actividades en el Centro Comunitario East, incluyendo programas para después de la escuela, aprendizaje al aire libre, cuidado de niños, un jardín comunitario, servicios de salud mental, y más.

Además, los estudiantes de preescolar en The Village Early Childhood Center son los beneficiarios de una beca de $10,000 de parte de la Federación Nacional de Vida Silvestre ECHO initiative. La beca es para un diseño de paisaje, el cual tendrá un jardín sensorial y un salón de clases al aire libre. La iniciativa también brinda desarrollo profesional para el personal de Educación Infantil sobre cómo activar sus espacios al aire libre e involucrar a los niños en el aprendizaje de la naturaleza.

La donación final de $110,000 de parte de un donador anónimo se destinó a la compra de una segunda mesa de disección virtual para el campus EPIC. La tecnología de vanguardia brinda a nuestros estudiantes de Ciencias de la Salud una comprensión más alta de la materia y les brinda una ventaja competitiva mientras buscan una educación más avanzada.

Somos extremadamente afortunados de tener colaboradores de la comunidad quienes valoran y priorizan el aprendizaje y el crecimiento de los estudiantes. Compartiremos historias y fotografías acerca de cómo las becas sirven a nuestros jóvenes en comunicaciones futuras.

La beca de la Fundación de LPS trae un Taller de Narración Único a la Escuela Preparatoria Littleton

Les contamos anteriormente acerca de una beca para un educador que trajo novelas gráficas muy solicitadas a la Escuela Secundaria Goddard. Ahora destacamos una beca que se le dio a estudiantes de arte en la Escuela Preparatoria Littleton la oportunidad de crear su propia novela gráfica con la ayuda de un experto.

La maestra de LHS de Artes Visuales, Melanie Rapp, invitó al Dr. Andrew Scahill, profesor de estudios cinematográficos de la Universidad de Colorado en Denver, a dirigir un taller que exploró el mundo de las novelas gráficas, las cuales tienen una manera única de contar historias utilizando imágenes y palabras.

Los estudiantes escribieron e ilustraron sus propias novelas gráficas con el conocimiento que adquirieron. Esta experiencia brindó a los jóvenes artistas información valiosa de un experto en la industria y les demostró los diferentes caminos que pueden tomar en el mundo creativo. La Srta. Rapp comentó que a los estudiantes les encantó esta experiencia y pidieron más visitas de artistas y fotógrafos.

Sus donaciones a la Fundación financian nuestras iniciativas clave, incluyendo becas para el programa de educadores. Para más información visite la Página Qué hacemos en nuestro sitio web.
